In this deeply personal and moving memoir, award-winning author [Author's Name] takes us on a journey through her lifelong search for a sense of home and belonging. From her early childhood, spent in a series of foster homes, through her tumultuous adolescence and into adulthood, [Author's Name] has always felt like an outsider, never quite fitting in.

Through her experiences, [Author's Name] explores the complex and often contradictory nature of family and belonging. She writes about the challenges of being adopted and the longing to find her birth parents. She also writes about the pain of losing loved ones and the struggle to rebuild a sense of home after loss.

But [Author's Name]'s story is ultimately one of hope and redemption. Through her journey, she learns the true meaning of family and belonging and discovers that home is not always a place, but a feeling.
