The Sockeyes opened the scoring in the first period when forward Ryan Hofer banged in a rebound past Tomahawks goaltender Mason Dunsford. Seattle extended its lead to 2-0 in the second period when defenseman Ethan Price scored on a slap shot from the point.

The Tomahawks got on the board late in the second period when forward Ethan Bear scored on a power play. Tacoma then tied the game in the third period when forward Brendan De Jong scored on a breakaway.

The game remained tied until the overtime period, when Sockeyes forward Matthew Wedman scored the game-winning goal on a wrist shot from the slot. The goal gave the Sockeyes a 3-2 victory and their first win of the season.

The game was a physical one, with both teams delivering big hits throughout the night. The Sockeyes finished the game with 32 hits, while the Tomahawks had 28. Seattle also had a 16-14 advantage in blocked shots.

The Sockeyes' physical play was a key factor in their victory. The team was able to use its size and strength to wear down the Tomahawks and create scoring chances.

The Sockeyes will be back in action on Sunday when they host the Spokane Chiefs at accesso ShoWare Center. The game is scheduled to start at 5:05 p.m.
